

A person is silhouetted against a bright light source at the end of a cave. The cave walls are covered in intricate, glowing blue patterns that resemble biological or geological structures. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and scientific.

Authors' Workflow for open access in hybrid journals

A person is standing in a dark, cavernous space, illuminated by a bright blue light. The walls and ceiling are covered in intricate, crystalline ice formations that catch the light, creating a shimmering, ethereal atmosphere. The person is silhouetted against the bright light coming from an opening in the distance. The overall scene is mysterious and awe-inspiring.

Invitation to Author Services

Author Services Invitation

Invitation

Authors are invited to Author Services when their article has been accepted by a journal, regardless of institutional affiliation.

To begin the author workflow for the article, they click on the 'Manage article' button.

Please specify who owns the copyright for this article

The answer to this question will tell our system whether you are authorized to sign this form yourself, or if you will be required to obtain another signature in order to legally transfer or retain copyright.

Contributor-owned work

This is the correct selection for most authors. It is customary in most academic and healthcare institutions for faculty to retain copyright for articles that they have authored. Please check whether different policies apply in your institution.

U.S. Government work

Applies only if your work was authored as part of your official duties as a United States federal government employee; such works are in the public domain in the US.

U.K. Government work

Applies only to employees of the U.K. Government.

Non-Governmental Organization work

Applies only if the work was carried out during the course of employment by a Non-Governmental Organization.

Other Government work

Applies only to government employees outside of the U.S. and U.K.

Company/institution-owned work

This does not typically apply to most universities and academic institutions. Applies when an organization, often a commercial corporation, owns the copyright of a work either because there is a specific clause in the author's contract of employment that states the company/institution's ownership of its employees' intellectual property, or it has been contracted ('made for hire').

Copyright Ownership

Author is presented with the Copyright Ownership selection.
